

SERVICE SALUTE

We here at Wisconsin River Meats are truly blessed. We have become friends with so many fine men and women of the United States Armed Forces. Over the last few years we have shipped stuff all over this world to our serving members. Parents, relatives and loved ones of those serving have also contacted us. Each and every contact becomes a special relationship. We believe that we can send a little bit of home abroad. It is a deep, great satisfaction to know that you are making a difference in someone's life even if it's just a snack or two.

The owners John and Dave both have Military or Military family backgrounds. John is an old Marine and his son Kenny served a tour of combat in Iraq helping to oversee their first historic elections. John's daughter Jill and her husband Jared are both now Captains in the Army and have both served in combat in Iraq and Jill and Jared are now headed to Afghanistan. David's dad Arnie was in the Army who guarded and walked the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers and David's son Alex has just joined the Marines (combat infantry), following the military service of his grandfather Tommy Roesler, a Korean War Airborne veteran.

We are honored to do our part however we can. All Military orders are specially packed for the rough trip, we fill out all the international customs forms and we always throw in free treats for those who serve.

*God Bless those who served and those who do.
We stand proud with you.*

Marine Capt. Brian Adams and Marine Capt. Eric Nichols called us via satellite phone and we arranged a shipment of over 50# of various smoked brats to Iraq where they held a giant cookout for over 250 marines! Semper Fi!!

Local soldier from Reedsburg, WI. SSG Jesse H. Arias Jr. is part of the Diyala Provincial Reconstruction Team. He called recently from Iraq missing landjaegers! He wished he could drive the few miles to the plant but instead we sent them 7,000 miles!
